

Guidelines for housing affected by Coronavirus

On April 3, 2020 Governor Hogan signed an Executive Order to address financial hardships Maryland residents are facing due to the COVID-19 (Coronavirus) Pandemic:

Here's what you need to know:

- Nearly 70 of the state's banks and financial institutions have agreed to a program to provide a 90-day period of forbearance and deferral on mortgages. You must contact your financial services provider to take advantage of this relief.
- Evictions and foreclosures on residential, industrial, and commercial mortgages ARE NOT ALLOWED during Maryland's state of emergency under the Executive Order.

For more information, visit the following State websites:

bit.ly/COVIDMDMortgage

bit.ly/COVIDMDMortgageRelief

What do i do if I think I have COVID-19?

- If your symptoms are mild, call your primary care doctor.
- If you don't have a doctor, call 211 and ask for a list of local clinics, or visit bit.ly/baltclinic.
- Only go to the ER if your symptoms are severe.

coronavirus.baltimorecity.gov

Bernard C. "Jack" Young
Mayor